Sambo-Anderson.

To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette : "Sambo Anderson," described some time ago by one of your correspondents as having been a servant of Gen. Washington, and also as reputed to have been an offshoot of old African royalty, I never saw, and of him cannot give any reminiscences. But if you will indulge me I will relate something of another "old servant" of the distinguished chieftian, in the following homespun ballad of Uncle

> He was an ancient colored man, His age one hundred ten; He hailed from old Virginy, And once a slave had been.

His hair was thin and silver'd, His brow with furrows set, Features fine cut and moulded, And face as black as jet.

In olden times, the story ran, That kings and noblemen, In Afric's sultry climate, His forefathers had been;

And as I gazed upon him, And closely scan'd his mien, It seemed a trace of royalty Full well might yet be seen. He bow'd him low and tip'd his hat,

And laid aside his hoe, The while I briefly interview'd About the long ago.

"My name is Thornton Gray" he said; "Dey calls me 'Uncle Thorn," Lived mos'ly in Old Fairfax-In Wes'mo'land was born.'

"Was ris by Mars' Wilkers'n Great farmer, may depen'd; Own'd all de big plantation, Dey call'd de 'River Bend.' "

"Made heaps of fine tabacca, Had stores of corn and wheat. Hard labor mind you; but de han's Had plenty den to eat.'

"Times ain't de same as den dey was, 'Pears like dey's chang'd all round. De folks dat lived when I was young, All dead and under ground.

"'Taint long I knows for me to stay, Here after all de rest; I only waits de Lord's good time-

Surely he knows de best.' "I soon shall hear de trumpeter, Blow on his trumpet horn, And call me home to glory,

And de resurrection morn." My good freed man, to him I said, Of age, one bundred ten, You might relate much history

Of former times and men. I wait to hear the story, Which none can tell but you,

For none have lived five score of years And ten more added to.

You must have seen the Britishers, And heard the cannons roar; "Why bless you chile', was mos' a man, And heard and seen de war.

And Washington, you must have seen, That great and good hero Who led the Continentalers, And fought our battles through !

"Why surely I has seen him, And know'd him well; for boss, I was de Gineral's sarvant, Took care de Gineral's hoss !"

"Fine man he was for sartin, Good friend to all de poor-Dar's none in dese days like him,

And none, folks said, before. Enough, I said ! I'm well repaid; And grasped his trembling hand-No honor bath a man like this,

In all our glorious land! No further did I question him About the long ago,

And when I said to him good bye, He took his grubbing hoe. Who hath beheld our Washington,

And lived to tell us so, Deserves as well a story As many others do.

And hence our homely ballad, A tribute slight to pay To this departed colored man, And ancient-Thornton Gray.

By placing the diluted fluid in dishes or basins, about bed chambers, school rooms, work shops, hospital wards, &c., it keeps the air in a perfect state of purity. For stables, slaughter houses, butchers' shops, dairies, cellars, &c., it is invaluable, keeping them in a perfectly wholesome state, by merely sprinkling the di-luted fluid over the floors and walls. It keeps dust bins, water closets, drains, urinals, &c. sweet and wholesome, by using once or twice a day. For sale by JANNEY & CO.
